Violation of these policies could result in disciplinary and/or legal action leading up to and including termination of employment. Employees may also be held personally liable for damages caused by any violations of this policy

Employee Grievance Redressal

It is desirable and generally expected that issues / grievances are sorted out by the concerned employees through dialogue and mutual understanding. Further, it is expected that cohesiveness exists within the department and co-ordination between the different departments, as these are essential prerequisites to the success of any organisation

However, in the interest of good order and role clarity, employees are advised to adhere to the following procedure:

Work Related Grievances

Employees should refer any grievances / issues to and discuss the same with their supervisor / departmental head for a resolution.

Employees should ensure that their non-work related grievances / issues are genuine and significant and are kept to the minimum, and may discuss them with their supervisors / departmental heads for guidance and counselling, and, if required, with HR.

If any grievance remains unresolved at the departmental level, it should be referred to the HR Department, which will review and facilitate a process for resolution
If a satisfactory resolution is not obtained at this stage, the matter may be referred to the Director for his review and decision, which will be final and binding.

Complaints

Misunderstanding can occur in any organization. Discussions with his Department Manager are the best way for an employee to point out the conditions that adversely affect him. This will allow the employee's Department Manager to seek ways to eliminate any problem. Every effort will be made to handle all complaints and to settle them in a manner that is fair to all concerned.

Nevertheless, if an employee feels that there is a need to take his complaint to higher authority ,he can take it to department manager or HR. Presenting a complaint or taking part in a meeting, at which a complaint is discussed with his Department Manager, will in no way prejudice his employment status.

Victimization is not permitted. No Department Manager may discriminate against an employee who initiates or who assists or participates in the processing of a complaint under this policy.

Visitors in the Workplace

Visitors should be attended to only in the reception area. Employees should not crowd the Reception area to attend to their visitors / guests.
Those visitors / guests, who come to meet the Directors, will be made to wait in the reception area, with the permission of the concerned Director or MD.
Ex-employees, friends & relatives of employees should also be restricted only up reception area.

Local Conveyance reimbursement

We pay Travelling allowance on actual basis from home to office and back ie: the cheapest mode of transport only if agreed upon during interview.

IT Asset Usage policy

The Company provides employees with the required IT infrastructures and assets, which are supposed to be used keeping the interest of the company benefit. Employees (users) are requested to follow the below guidelines while using the IT Assets provided to them:

- All the IT Assets will be provided to the employee as per the company's standard and the requirement subject to their HOD's approval.
- Employees (users) are requested to properly check the assets and report if any damage found to IT department.
- Employees are requested to take utmost care of all the IT assets and report to IT Department about any malfunctioning of the same. The same will be checked by the IT person and accordingly the asset will be repaired or replaced.
- All the assets provided to the employees will be totally free of cost and it is the duty of the employee (user) to take care of the same. However, if any asset found damaged/stolen due to mishandling by the user, company has full right to recover the cost of the asset from the user's salary.
- It must be kept in mind that the use of the assets is for official purposes and all efforts must be made to ensure that there is no misuse of the facility provided. Employees are expected to adhere with the expected code of conduct & any misuse can be subject to disciplinary action.
